NEWPORT CAME BACK WITH A PUNCH

Tyron Made a Long Home Run at Right Time

History relates that the Green Mountain boys always came back strong. They certainly did Wednesday afternoon in the sensational baseball game between Sherbrooke and Newport. Led in thumping the old apple by Benny Tryon—full name Henry Elwin—a veritable son of Ira Allen, and captain-elect of the 1922 University of Vermont ball team—the border city aggregation swept aside the stalwart defense set up by the most formidable collection of stars that Manager George Povey could secure, and won a great contest 7 to 3.

Benny Tryon sealed the fate of Patty Green, the mountainous 250 pound right handed hurler, who towered on the hillcock for the Canadian team. There is a psychological moment in every athletic contest, a turning point as it were. If sufficient stress is brought to bear on the opposing team at the critical time, it may crack. Sherbrooke cracked Wednesday afternoon at the Old Fairgrounds before the biggest crowd that has witnessed any contest in Newport, with the exception of the St. Johnsbury game.

Sherbrooke crumbled in the first inning. And Newport was heartened and nothing under the sun could halt the Ross's clannish after that. Benny Tryon caved in the defense of his opponents when he crashed one of Patty Green's speedy shots far into right field for one of the longest home runs made on the local diamond in many a moon. The gigantic cleavered Nels Browne and Joe Snyder ahead of the battering left fielder. There was no stopping the border city boys henceforth, and they swept on to glorious victory.

Browne leading off for Newport was free-ticketed to the initial baserun. Brains Bower dumped a neat sacrifice in front of the plate and advanced his pal to second. Joe Snyder, playing his first game in a domestic uniform was safe at first on a fly to right field. Little did big Patty Green, imported specially from Montreal in the hope that he might blast New-

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH

Four-Year-Old Grace Howard Loses Life Playing With Matches

Grace Howard, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Howard of St. Johnsbury, met a horrible death today from burns received playing with matches. With two other children the child was alone in the house for a few moments while Mrs. Howard and her son, Richard, were in the berry field near the house. Fearing that the children might get matches, Mrs. Howard had taken the precaution to hide them but an overpowering desire to set fire to cat tails lead the little folks to search for the matches and the finding of two cost Grace her life.

The screams of the children were heard in the berry field and the first to reach the little victim was her brother, Richard, seven years old. There is a brook near the farm house where the Howards live and Richard rushed his sister there tearing off her blazing clothing as they ran. His hands were badly burned but he pluckily plunged into the brook, dragging his sister with him. The child was horribly burned about the body and a physician called immediately after the accident. Wednesday morning found her condition dangerous. Death occurred early Thursday morning.

The little girl was one of a family of five, two older and two younger. The family live on one of the Roberts farms in the St. Johnsbury Center. Mr. Howard, who is a nephew of Mrs. George H. Stearns of St. Johnsbury, lost his arm a few years ago while using a threshing machine.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

TO DISCUSS BRITISH PEACE PROPOSALS

London, August 4.—The Irish situation took a sensational turn today when it was announced in Dublin that Eamon De Valera and his associates had decided to summon a full meeting of the Irish Republican parliament to consider the British government's Irish peace proposals.

It has been repeatedly stated in Dublin that the Dail Eirann would not be summoned until Ulster's attitude had been learned. Coincident with the calling of the meeting of this body came conflicting reports from Dublin and Belfast concerning Ulster's position. In Dublin it is reported that Ulster has been sounded and has returned an answer unfavorable to the Sinn Fein overtures, while in Belfast, after an important meeting of the cabinet, it was stated at the Ulster Ministry had received no communication from Mr. De Valera. While the reports at first glance seemed irreconcilable, it is pointed out that possibly both may be correct. The fact that the Ulster cabinet itself has not received a communication would not, it is noted, preclude the possibility of an informal discussion between Northern and southern leaders.

Official quarters in London know of no other communication having been passed between Mr. De Valera and the Northern Cabinet but it was understood from another source that Premier Lloyd-George, after conferring with Sir James Craig in London this week sent a message to De Valera which might account for calling of the Dail. The British cabinet already has reached a decision regarding the release of members of the Dail imprisoned or in detention camps and it is understood that Dublin Castle is free to release them as it may see fit.

DUBLIN, Aug. 4.—A full meeting of the Irish Republican parliament is to be called. The official announcement with the date for the meeting will be published in tonight's issue of the Irish bulletin. The call for the meeting of the parliament with all members present involves the release from prison of 25 members of the body and it has been said the government is willing to facilitate their attendance. The belief has been expressed among the Irish leaders that there was no use in summing the parliament until the attitude of Ulster had been defined. The inference in political circles here therefore is that the answer has been received. This

GOODE HOLDS GRANBY TO FOUR BINGLES

Conlon and Starr Clout Ball Hard and Local's Win

"Eddie" Goode twirled in masterly fashion, allowing but four safe bingles, his team mates (everyone of them) accepted all chances in the field without committing an error while Bernie Starr and Arthur "Jock" Conlon wielded their particular bats with wonderful result. So it is not to be wondered the Fairbanks A. A. soundly trimmed the Granby, P. Q. team 6 to 2 in a twilight game of the regulation number of innings at the campus yesterday evening.

Owing to the delay in arrival of a portion of the visiting athletes, due to a break down of their automobile in Derby, made it impossible to start the fracas until 5:30 o'clock. The game was finished a few minutes after the clock in the town hall had pealed seven times. St. Johnsbury fans were good sports. Most of them took the delay good naturedly and waited patiently for the coming of the visiting warriors and it is sufficient to say they were well repaid.

Granby took a good lead by scoring two runs in their half of the fourth inning and at the rate both pitchers were traveling a pair of markers appeared to be enough to win the ball game. Incidentally one of the Granby scores were a gift from Pitcher Goode who was unfortunate in letting get away from him a wild pitch.

Although Green, the colored twirler, held the St. Johnsbury players absolutely hitless until the fifth inning was ushered in, the Fairbanks outfit slipped over a single center in the fourth, the result of a pass, error and a fielder's choice. Then came Green's momentary lapse in the fifth (and this 'blow-up' was anticipated in view of the number of curve balls the hurler was serving) when Fairbanks piled up three more runs and sewed up the contest, although two further runs trickled across in the seventh just for good measure.

While Goode pitched a very effective game his fielding was a bit off color. He was directly and indirectly responsible for both Granby scores and thus cheated himself out of a well earned whitewash of the Canadians. Only one safe crack was made off him in the fifth inning and yet two markers resulted. After Lindsay had singled to center, Eddie became wild and hit Bowden. Then he juggled an easy tap from Brown just long enough to miss Lindsay at third. And the bases were crammed. Then one of Goode's high ones went clean over the catcher's head, letting in a run. A second easy tap from Lussier's bat went to the pitcher and his tardiness in shooting the ball to Starr caused another Granby run to be registered. It is quite apparent that Eddie is in need of a bit more of fielding practice.

Conlon and Starr are fast becoming Nemeses for visiting hurlers. Both of these boys are hammering the ball hard and coming through in the pinches, when bingles mean runs and often the game. And it is evident to all that the pair of hitting demons are capable of sending the ball to all fields. A

PRES. HARDING NOT TO VISIT VERMONT

Impossible to Break Itinerary of Present Trip

"I regret that I am obliged to deny myself the pleasure of a visit to Vermont on this trip. Before the end of my term I plan to come to Vermont. I shall certainly include St. Johnsbury."

This was President Harding's reply to a party of Vermonters who motored to Lancaster Wednesday afternoon and called on him at the beautiful summer home of Secretary of War Weeks on the summit of Mount Prospect.

The party included Col. Earle S. Kinsley of Rutland, Vermont member of the republican national committee; H. H. Carr of St. Johnsbury, Caledonia county member of republican state committee; Editor C. T. Walter of the Republican and Edward Cramton of St. Johnsbury; Howard P. Almond and A. B. Shepard of Montpelier.

Col. Kinsley gave the President and his distinguished party a most cordial invitation to visit Vermont on the present trip, and reminded them of the urgent invitation of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Ritter of Columbus, Ohio, personal friends of the President, who are spending the summer at Manchester, to visit them at the Equinox. Mr. Carr and the other visitors supplemented Col. Kinsley's invitation and suggested that they make St. Johnsbury a stopping place on the way. Col. Kinsley also suggested that if this trip was made that the return from Manchester be made by way of Woodstock and Plymouth to visit the birthplace of Vice President Coolidge. Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge have also urged the trip and signified their desire to come to Vermont at the time if it was arranged in order to welcome the Presidential party at the home of the vice president in Plymouth.

The President admitted the attractiveness of the proposed detour but said that his time was short and that, in view of the fact that he had denied himself many other invitations to nearby points, it would not be possible or advisable to change his program and come to Vermont at this time. He said, however, that he did anticipate a visit to the Green Mountain state at a later date.

The Vermont party succeeded in identifying themselves satisfactorily with the secret service men on duty along the private way from the main highway to the Weeks lodge, which has for the week become the summer White House, and arrived at a most opportune time for the interview. Governor and Mrs. Brown of New Hampshire had just called to pay their respects, and President Harding and several of the senators were just ready to start for the Waumbek links for a game of golf when the visitors arrived. Mr. Harding stopped long enough to present the visitors to the members of the Presidential party, and were very cordial in their greetings and good wishes.

To the newspaperman of the party President Harding said: "Let's talk shop. I always like to talk shop with the boys. How

Believes America's Example Will Lead All Nation's to Permanent Peace

Expresses Confidence American Institutions More Firmly Implanted Than Ever Before

(By the Associated Press)

LANCASTER, N. H., August 4.—Confidence that American institutions are more firmly implanted than ever before and that in the near future America's example will lead all the nations to permanent peace was expressed by President Harding today in an address at a welcome demonstration in Lancaster. The coming disarmament conference, the president said, "gave promise of an international agreement that would end wars and turn the attention of mankind to constructive and beneficial pursuits." He asked for the support of the American people in the government's trial over the reconstruction period and pledged in return that the administration would serve the nation to its highest ability. The president's speech was delivered from his automobile in Continental Square to a crowd of several thousands who had come to bid him welcome to the White Mountain country.

Gov. Hartness and Troops at Bellows Falls

The strike situation at Bellows Falls is being closely watched by Vermont's chief executive and Co. J. of Brattleboro of the Vermont National Guard. The latter are guarding the mills of the International Paper Co. and Pte. Martin fired at two men Wednesday who were trying to get into the mill who refused to halt after being commanded to do so three times. This is the first shot to be fired by a militiaman and the men bent a hasty retreat.

Pres. Dodge of the International Paper Co. issued a lengthy statement Wednesday in which he says no attention will be paid to a wage schedule now being arbitrated by other interests. He also said that former employees will be taken back unless they have been guilty of an offense against the company but that competent men now in their employ will not be turned off to give place to those now on a strike.

A reward of $500 has been offered by the International Paper Co. for information leading to the conviction of the party or parties that damaged the company's property at the time of the last strike riot in this city.

Caledonian Newsboy On Bicycle Trip

Russell Brown, one of the Caledonian's most dependable delivery boys, a member of Troop 2, Boy Scouts, with a pup tent and a kit of cooking necessities strapped to his bicycle set out this morning on a vacation trip and a seeing Vermont expedition. He plans to meet his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brown in their camp at Laurel Lake, Jacksonville, Vt., August 12th, making his way via Johnson, Burlington, Middlebury, Rutland, Manchester and Bennington and the Ethan Allen trail to Wilmington and Jacksonville.

Two Cars In Collision on Avenue

A Buick automobile, operated by Clayton Silsby and a Dodge roadster, driven by Charles Lloyd, met in collision at the junction of South Pearl street and Eastern Avenue about six o'clock Tuesday evening. Both cars were slightly damaged but none of the occupants were injured.

The Dodge machine, in which William Campbell was a passenger with Lloyd, was proceeding up Pearl street and entering the avenue. Silsby, who was going down the hill turned to the left of the street as soon as he saw the other car but too late to avoid a crash. The Dodge car was swerved to the right for several feet while the Buick shot up on the sidewalk on the left side of the thoroughfare.

Both drivers deny, it is said, of hearing the other sound a warning of approach. The accident was witnessed by several persons and a large crowd was attracted to the scene.

OUR WANT ADS PAY

CHATS WITH YOUR GAS MAN

You buy a simple article, and the price makes you gasp. "Who's getting the big profit?" you ask. "I'm not," replies the retailer, and he points to the wholesaler; the wholesaler to the manufacturer, and the manufacturer to the laborer.

The same old chain, with a profit on every link. Is all business like that? Must we pay two, three or four profits on everything we buy?

No indeed. Here is your gas company selling you service; delivering gas direct from the plant, right to the point of use in your home, without middlemen or middlemen's profits, and with every item of its cost regulated by your trusted representatives.

And seldom indeed does the profit exceed 8% on the money actually invested. Frequently it is less.

What other business renders so complete a service at so small a return?

St. Johnsbury Gas Co.
